PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, JAN. 1, 1908

THE CHARLES WARNER COMPANY
GIVE A DINNER.

Hanna's Cafe, at Wilmington, Delaware, on Saturday evening last, was the scene of a highly interesting as well as a pleasant social event, the occasion being the fourth annual dinner of the Charles Warner Company to ninety of its employees.

Modern business nowadays moves in rapid strides, results are sharp, quick and decisive.

The survival of the fittest has become as much a rule in business as it is in nature. The forefathers in American business life would be surprised at what their followers now do. The gathering together of employers and employees at a social event, as was the Warner dinner, would appeal the average business man on the other side of the great Atlantic, for to him it would be a compromising of his pride and dignity, but in our own country it has become a common practice, and a profitable and satisfactory one, as it brings in close relationship those who are truly most interested in the success of the concern, inspiring confidence and respect in every direction.

On this occasion Alfred D. Warner presided and Nelson O. Lyster, of Philadelphia district, was toast-master. J. L. Durnell, Philadelphia retail manager, and Charles W. Robinson made short addresses on the progress of the company.

WITH THE COMPLIMENTS OF
SAMUEL H. FRENCH & CO.

The wild rush with which things go nowadays makes it imperative that something better and more reliable must be depended on to keep tab on a busy man's duties and engagements than his memory. At this point Messrs. Samuel H. French and Company anticipate the need of business men with a desk pad and calendar, so arranged that one's daily business engagements can be noted a whole year ahead if necessary, and a mix up of dates is simply impossible. What other concern if or out of the building material supply business can show such a splendid record for uninterrupted success? What an instruction as well as a lasting example to our young and progressive business men the inscription on the outside leaf of this calendar bears. We quote it in its entirety:

"2314 days of continued advance in the manufacture of materials of the highest attainable standard. We ask you to keep this thought uppermost in your minds during 1908, and we invite your continued confidence, extending to you our best wishes for 'A Happy and Prosperous New Year.'"

"Signed,
"SAMUEL H. FRENCH & CO."

THE MECHANICS' INSURANCE COMPANY'S CALENDAR FOR 1908.

The year closed with eminently satisfactory results with this old established and very prosperous Fire Insurance Company, as a natural result of clever management in the selection of fire risks on the part of its officers.

The company has issued its usual practical and useful business calendar for 1908. The holidays being in red ink, give the calendar a special feature which but few others possess. The office of the Mechanics' Insurance Company is at the southwest corner of Fifth and Walnut streets. Simon J. Martin, president; John M. Campbell, vice president; John A. Snyder, secretary.

BUILDING and REAL ESTATE NOTES

It is stated that estimates will be received about April 1st by Architects Parish & Schroeder, 5 West Thirty-first street, New York City, for the erection of the geological and biological laboratory for Princeton University, at Princeton, New Jersey. The estimated cost is about $400,000.

James Knox Taylor, supervising architect, Washington, D. C., opened the following bids on December 30th for the construction of an extension, etc. (including plumbing, gas-piping, heating apparatus, electric conduits and wiring), to the U. S. Post Office at Lancaster: J. E. & A. L. Pennock, Philadelphia, $48,600; Chas. McCaul, Philadelphia, $49,503; M. P. Wells, Philadelphia, $48,750; Steinbock & Millmayer Lewistown, $65,200; Robt. Rathburn, Allentown, $57,500; B. M. Zadeck Co., Chicago, Ill., $59,860; Connors Bros. Co., Lowell, Mass., $68,864; Herman Halson Co., Lancaster, $64,100; J. R. Breneman, Lancaster, $53,000; W. H. Fissell, New York, N. Y., $55,739, and Cramp & Co., Philadelphia, $54,281.

Almost $1,000,000 became available last week for municipal improvements by the assignment by Mayor Reyburn to the various bureaus of the Department of Public Works of that amount of money received from Drexel & Co. last month, representing the last instalment of $6,000,000 bonds sold last July. The Mayor allotted the money as follows:

Director Stearns states that he will readvertise proposals for the high-pressure fire main extensions on the north and south streets between Front and Broad streets and Walnut and Arch, under the allotment of $150,000 out of the loan for that purpose.

(COMPLETE)

Complete tables of building operations of all kinds and transfers of real estate in this city for the twelve months of 1907.

8978 new buildings of all kinds, costing, exclusive of the cost of the land, $30,454,476.00 against 10,804 in 1906, costing $33,327,536.00, a falling off of 1826 new buildings and $2,873,060.00 in the amount of the investment last year.

2624 alterations and additions costing $3,936,000.00, or 38 less than in 1906, while the amount of the investment is less than in 1906 by $57,000.

26,214 transfers of real estate valued at $115,615,471.04, an increase in the number of transfers last year over 1906 of 31, while the value of the properties transferred shows a loss in value, when compared with that of 1906, of $14,262,923.05.

The most notable feature in the real estate transactions of last year is the great shrinkage in the value of the sum total of the properties transferred, for while there are 31 more than in 1906, there is a difference in the total value of $14,262,923.05.

To account for this vast difference is an easy task, for it rests entirely with the quality of the properties transferred, and not, as many suppose, in a general shrinkage in the value of real estate. Last year was not a year remarkable for transactions in costly properties, such as manufacturing plants and sites. It was a pure and simple prolongation of the era of home buying as well as the buying of small houses for investment, and in this respect accommodating terms encouraged the disposition to buy, in evidence of which, if the reader will refer to our tables of transfers, the item of nearly sixty-two and a half millions of mortgage incumbrance will go far in the way of explanation, and in this respect we might cheerfully add that if it were possible to eliminate from the record of transfers the properties that were clear from incumbrance and obtain an average of the incumbrance on the properties transferred that are really responsible for this great burden of debt the figures would certainly be surprising.

The question then is as to the future, and this depends upon the ability of the holders to meet their obligations; that an aftermath as the result of an unusual shrinkage in industrial energy would be distressing and the sheriff would become the busiest man in the community is conclusive. This is the ultra view and talk of the pessimist and more particularly of those who were badly roasted in the stock market and who at present have a poor chance to recover their losses.

The logic of the situation, as we see it, is based on the great economic value and producing power of the country, which, like a great battering ram, will continue to force American progression, onward and upward. It would be foolish to argue against the possibilities as well as the influence of shrinkage, but why not a shrinkage? It was our prediction months ago that it would come, for there always follows a period when development of the kind that has characterized the last four years has reached its limit. Does this, however, mean apathy and stagnation, idleness and poverty, for our millions of wage earners? We do not believe it and there are plenty of observing, level-headed men who do not believe it. Too much stress has been laid on current events, such as the return of thousands of Italians and others to their own country.

No reference, however, was made to the possible return of these people with their ranks swelled a hundred fold as a natural result of a desire to share the advantages found in this country of golden opportunities. It will be recalled that in 1906 predictions were plenty that in 1907 the real estate market would take a slump. Did it? That a panic was inevitable. Did it come? And can anyone deny that the most vigorous and strenuous efforts were made in this direction? As a people we are all right. We have learned to recognize the value of labor as well as the profitable results of proper direction.

We know that there is more value in a bushel of wheat, as well as in the man who produces it, than there is in the empty-headed idlers who make up the aristocracy of Europe, and, truly and seriously, he only disturbing influence of a serious nature that we are able to recognize at present is the almost entire absence of plenty of snow on our grain fields all over the country, for snow means a profitable harvest.

We can rest assured that the man who has invested his savings in a home is going to struggle hard to keep it.

THE PENN MUTUAL ELECTS TRUSTEES AND OFFICERS FOR 1908.

ARCHITECTS' NOTES

The announcement of the opening of architect offices by Oliver Randolph Perry in the Rothschild Building, 14 South Broad street, will be welcome news to his large circle of friends in this city, as he is well and favorably known in his chosen profession. Mr. Perry is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, and, in addition, was associated with Newman & Harris and Baker & Dallett, well-known architects of this city, for a number of years. He was also formerly a member of the well-known firm of E. P. Gardner & Co., of Scranton, Pa.

John Wyeth and Brother, drug manufacturers, Southeast corner of Eleventh and Washington avenue, will make alterations and additions to their plant. Plans are now being prepared for an addition to 1134 South Eleventh street.

Amos W. Barnes, civil engineer and architect, 134 South Ninth street, is engaged on plans and specifications for twelve two-story brick and frame dwellings to be built in Norristown, Pa., for himself. Plans will be ready for bids in the early Spring and Mr. Barnes will receive the bids.

Clyde S. Adams, architect, 1233 Arch street, is preparing drawings for a club house to be built at Longshore and Marsden streets, Tacony, for the Tacony Club, a political organization of the Forty-first Ward, of which Alfred Butterworth is the president. It is proposed to build a structure to cost about $15,000.

Newman and Harris, architects, 1414 South Penn Square, have sent out revised plans for the two-and-a-half-story brick and rough cast residence to be built at Strafford, Pa., for Mrs. W. C. Watson. The following builders are estimating: Metzger and Wells, William R. Dougherty, the Smith-Hardman Co., J. P. Thompson and Frank H. Mahan.

Frank P. Milburn & Co., architects, Home Life Building, Washington, D. C., and R. S. Smith, associate architect, Asheville, North Carolina, have prepared plans for a courthouse to be erected at Bryson, North Carolina, by the Swain County Commissioners. Bids for its construction will be received early in February.

Wesley Leshar Blithe, architect, 608 Chestnut street, is preparing plans for alterations and additions to the store building at 236 Market street, for A. B. Cunningham. The plans provide for a new front and interior alterations. Bids will be invited in about a week.

F. Russell Stuckert, architect, 1420 Chestnut street, has been commissioned to prepare plans for a brick factory to be built in Camden, N. J.

Arnold H. Moses, architect, 136 South Fourth street, has completed the plans for the two-and-a-half-story stone dwelling, measuring 44 x 36 feet, to be built at Mermaid Lane and Navahoe street, St. Martins, for Cushman Newhall. The following builders have been invited to bid: Calvin W. Rogers, A. Whitehead, F. B. Davis, William J. Gruhler and Horace H. Deal.

It is stated that Henry D. Dagit, architect, 411 Walnut street, will be commissioned to prepare the plans for the proposed new parochial school building for St. Edward the Confessor's Roman Catholic Church, to be built at Eighth and York streets. It is proposed to build a three-story stone structure to cost about $75,000. Father Vandergrift is rector of the church.

Carl P. Berger, architect, 1416-18 South Penn Square, has sent out revised plans and specifications for alterations to the East Penn Building, at 426 Walnut street. The plans provide for a new marble front, interior alterations to the third floor and finished basement building, entirely remodeled into modern offices. The work will include new plumbing, steam heating, electric wiring, tile floors, etc. John N. Gill & Co., builders, are bidding.

Louis C. Hickman, architect, 328 Chestnut street, has distributed plans among builders for a stone and concrete barn, measuring 31 x 83 feet, and a garage, 20 x 53 feet, to be built at Glen Riddle for A. E. Ford. The following builders have been invited to bid: Henry E. Baton and Warren T. Miller, of Philadelphia, and J. W. Worrlow, M. Flanders and Samuel Turner, of Media, Pa., and William Ward, of Chester, Pa.

Also plans for a one-story and loft brick stable to be built in the yard of the police and fire stables at the southwest corner of Eleventh and Wharton streets. It will be used for the horses of the new traffic squad. Bids on both structures will be advertised for shortly.

Albert Kelsey and Paul P. Cret, associate architects, 1524 Chestnut street, will finish the plans for the proposed new building for the Bureau of American Republics to be erected in Washington, D. C., in about two weeks. It will be built in sections, of stone, from one to three stories in height, measuring 60x180 feet, in the Spanish style of architecture. It will be built on the plot of ground bounded by B and C streets and Seventeenth and Eighteenth streets. The cost will be about $500,000.

F. D. A. L. Pennock, Cramp & Company and the Thompson-Starrett Company are among the Philadelphia builders who will be invited to bid.

street, have been engaged to prepare plans and specifications for a handsome three-story house-keeping flat house to be erected on the northeast side of Wayne avenue, 262½ feet above Johnson street, for L. P. Simpson & Son, 217 West Coulter street, Germantown. According to the plans which are not yet completed, the building will be a handsome stone structure, measuring 60 x 150 feet. It will contain four flats of seven rooms each with baths. The interior will be finely finished in hardwood with all the latest appointments and conveniences, making it one of the finest house-keeping flat houses in the city. The location is one of the most select sections of Pelham. The cost when completed will be about $100,000.

ARCHITECTS' NOTES

Walter S. Price, architect, 714 Walnut street, has awarded a contract for the erection of a three-story residence at Jenkintown, Pa., to cost $10,000, for C. F. Winot.

Wilson, Harris and Richards, architects, Drexel Building, will shortly complete the plans and invite bids for the three-story stone building, 50 x 130 feet, for the Academy of Natural Sciences. Noted previously.

Brookie and Hastings, architects, 328 Chestnut street, are completing preliminary sketches for a five-story fire proof, brick and terra cotta addition, to contain an amphitheatre, to the University of Pennsylvania Hospital.

The old road house, race track and stables belonging to the late Barney Owens, at Island Road and Mingo creek, was sold last week for $17,000 to John Garland, who it is stated will make improvements.

Oliver Randolph Parry, architect, 14 S. Broad street, has completed plans and specifications for a handsome two and a half-story brick and rough cast residence, measuring 30 feet square, to be built in Collingswood.

Edwin F. Durang & Son, architects, 1200 Chestnut street, will shortly invite estimates for the erection of the proposed new parochial school and clergy house for St. Nicholas Roman Catholic Church to be built in Atlantic City, N. J. Previously noted.

Joshua C. Jefferies, architect, has been commissioned to prepare the plans for the new Y. M. C. A. building to be built in Camden, N. J. It will be a five-story brick and stone structure, measuring 120 x 120 feet, and will be built on Broadway near Federal street.

George B. Wilson, who purchased the Hollingsworth property at 1528 Chestnut street, about two years ago for $275,000, will build a six-story office building on the site. He has had plans prepared for the proposed improvements and they provide for a store on the first floor with offices above.

George H. Hill has purchased two large lots at the southwest corner of Fifty-eighth and Dand Calowhill street for $11,600.313.

Charles W. Bolton & Son, architects, Witherspoon Building, have completed revised plans for the stone church, measuring 60 x 50 feet, to be built in Charleroi, Pa. Previously noted.

The Home for Hebrew Orphans, located at the southwest corner of Tenth and Bainbridge streets, will purchase a five-acre tract of land at Fifty-second street and Montgomery avenue, upon which an orphan asylum, to cost about $75,000, will be built. Dr. Samuel Steiner is the secretary.

Bunting and Shrigley, architects, 603 Chestnut street, have completed plans for general alterations and a two-story and basement addition, measuring 26 x 43½ feet, to the residence of William Bradway at Haverford, Pa. The Smith-Hardican Co., of this city; J. D. Lengle, of Wayne, and Gray Brothers, builders, of Rosemont Pa. are bidding.

Wesley Leshner Blithe, architect, 608 Chestnut street, has invited estimates from F. A. Havens & Co., the Smith-Hardican Company, F. L. Hoover & Sons, A. Raymond Raff, A. P. Fraim, James Johnston and Metzger & Wells, for alterations and additions to the store, 236 Market street, for A. B. Cunningham & Co.

Lawrence Visscher Boyd, architect, 1500 Market street, is engaged on plans for a five-story brick building to be built at 1715 Sansom street, for Walls and Ochs, opticians. The new building will be in the rear of their present building on Chestnut street and be used as a factory. It will measure 18 x 65 feet.

The Brooke Real Estate Company, 1416-18 South Penn Square, has sold a two and one half acre tract of land at Strafford, Pa., to C. W. Baily, who recently purchased a tract adjoining the present one. The same brokers have also sold the stone residence and an acre of ground at Haverford avenue and Polo avenue, Bryn Mawr, Pa., to Dr. Benjamin G. Gile, for $16,000.

Roland W. Boyle, architect, 1626 Chestnut street, has been engaged to prepare plans for a stone church to be built at Fifty-fourth and Pine streets for the parish of the Catholic Church of Our Lady of Victory. The same architect will also prepare plans for a new church, rectory, school and convent for the Catholic congregation of St. Colman at Argyle road and Lancaster avenue, Ardmore, Pa.

Theodore C. Visscher, architect, 425 Fifth avenue, New York City, has prepared plans for a bank building to be erected at Union City, Pa., for the Union City First National Bank. It will be of brick and stone, fine interior finish, tile and marble work, modern conveniences. Cost about $30,000. Bids for its construction will be received early in February.

Bunting & Shrigley, architects, 603 Chestnut street, are engaged on revised plans for a three-story stone and frame residence, measuring 24 x 80 feet, to be erected in Radnor, Pa.; for Mrs. Jules Wellers. The same architects are also preparing revised plans for the proposed two-story brick and stone gymnasium and library building to be built in Darby, Pa., for the House Protective Association. Previously noted.

At Richmond, Virginia, Mr. Charles E. Bolling, City Engineer, will receive competitive plans until March 23rd, 1908, for a combined market house and armory. Architects submitting plans will be required to furnish plans for elevators, longitudinal and cross-sections and other necessary detail drawings; also a proposal from a reliable company that the building can be erected for $100,000. The Committee on Grounds and Buildings reserves the usual rights.

It is stated that the following New York architects have been selected to prepare competitive plans for the new Post Office building, to be erected in New York City, at a cost of $3,500,000, exclusive of the cost of the site: Cass Gilbert, Carrere Hastings, George B. Post and Sons, Whitfield and King, Heins and La Farge, H. Van Buren, McKim, Mead and White and Kenneth M. Murchison. The judges who will pass upon the plans are Frank Miles Day, of Philadelphia; James G. Hill, Washington, D. C.; E. Wheelwright, Boston, Mass. and Henry F. Hornbostel, of New York City. The plans will be opened March 25, 1908.

C. E. Hunter, real estate broker, 14 South Broad street, has sold the Farr property, formerly known as the Garrigues farm, consisting of 67 acres, at Strafford station, on the Philadelphia and Western R. R., to a syndicate composed of Philadelphia capitalists, for $130,000, who will improve the tract this Spring. Should the project commend itself to the residents of the entire neighborhood as well as to the residents of the city, to which it will be quite convenient, the new purchasers will lay out a cemetery and have the necessary improvements made including the erection of a crematory to cost about $50,000. It is believed that the tract is most admirably adapted to the purpose, being easy of access by either the public roads or the new P. & W. line, while its necessity is apparent by reason of the fact that there is no public cemetery within a radius of several miles. Should this not meet with the approval of the people they will have plans prepared for an operation of handsome porch front residences. William P. Fairman, 742 Drexel Building, is one of the syndicate and can give information. No architect has yet been engaged for any of the above mentioned work.

WHY IS THIS THUS?

It seems to be the fact, however strange, that hard times, money stringency and the wholesale discharge of our industrial workers make no difference with the Italian end of the mosaic and tile business of this city, for the fact is indisputable that the Italian Marble and Mosaic Co., 429 and 431 Spruce street, this city, is not only busy, but it is very busy, as the following contracts will show. The old farmer does not live who takes more delight in the growth of a favorite tree than we take in the continued growth of the business of the advertisers in this journal. Garrick Theatre, Norristown, Pa.; National Hotel, Rochester, N. Y.; residence, Pottsville, Pa. store building, Hazleton, Pa.; hospital, Scranton, Pa.; bank building, Easton, Pa.; hospital, Palmerton, Pa.; R. R. station, Ampere, N. J.; Hahnemann Hospital, Philadelphia; residence, 2129 Delancy street; store, 1518 Chestnut street; additional work in Penna. Office Building at Fifteenth and Chestnut streets; residence, Strafford, Pa.; store building, 1207-09 Chestnut street; amusement palace, Chester, Pa.; St. Peter's R. C. Church, Merchantville, N. J.; factory building, Tenth and Oxford streets; factory building, Fifth and Master streets; mausoleum in West Laurel Hill Cemetery for the estate of John F. Betz; St. Bridget's R. C. Church, Falls of Schuylkill; factory building, Wilmington, Del.; bank, Wildwood, N. J.; factory, Riverside, N. J.; Everhart Museums, Scranton, Pa., and numerous other smaller contracts.

ARCHITECTS' NOTES

Jacob Myers & Sons, builders, Witherspoon Building, have plans posted for finishing the basements of the contagious ward building and the men's ward building of Wills Eye Hospital, at Eighteenth and Race streets. Three dining rooms will be fitted up in the men's ward and a dining room, sewing room, linen lockers, etc., in the contagious ward basement. Plans by John T. Windrim, architect, Commonwealth Building.

Charles J. Brooke, architect, 14 South Broad street, is completing plans for alterations and additions to a residence in West Philadelphia. Bids will shortly be invited.

Baker and Dallett, architects, 1629 Chestnut street, have completed plans for a rear addition and alterations to the residence at 1810 De Lancey Place, for W. S. Perot. The following builders have been invited to bid: J. P. Thompson, Jacob Myers & Sons, George L. Sipps, William R. Dougherty and Mitchell Bros.

Simon and Bassett, architects, 1112 Chestnut street, have been commissioned to prepare plans and specifications for a handsome residence to be built in Chester, Pa., for Thomas Oliver, a contractor and builder of that city. It will be two and one-half stories in height, of stone, and measure 36 x 52 feet. The interior will be finished in hardwood and contain all modern appointments and conveniences, and be heated by hot water. It is for Mr. Oliver's personal use and will occupy a site on Edgmont avenue facing Park Place. He has also purchased a tract of ground, at Twenty-third street and Edgmont avenue, for the purpose of erecting a number of fine residences there in the early Spring. The dwellings will be modern in every respect. It is stated that Mr. Oliver has acquired the greater part of the land running from Twenty-third to Twenty-fourth street on Edgmont avenue and running back to Crosby street, and that he intends eventually to build it up with modern structures.

Albert J. Messick, architect, 6035 North Broad street, is engaged on plans and specifications for four two-story brick dwellings at Carlisle and Loudon streets, Logan, Pa., for George R. Weikel. They will have porch fronts, cement cellars, hot air heat, slag roofing, hardwood finish on the interior with the usual conveniences. The same architect has been commissioned to prepare plans for ten two-story brick porch front dwellings to be built on Clinton near Ruscomb street, for Arthur Turner. They will also be heated by hot air, slag roofing and all modern conveniences.

Milligan and Webber, architects, 520 Walnut street, have completed plans and specifications for a one-story and basement gymnasium building, fifteen feet high, to be built at Fern Rock. It will contain a main floor, lounging room, smoking room, lockers, etc. The following builders are bidding: Mr. Hill, of Oak Lane; Walter Murray, Fern Rock, and Aiman and Morrow.

It is stated that architects will shortly be invited to submit competitive plans for a group of buildings for the Western University of Pennsylvania to be erected on a site of forty-three acres recently bought near Schenly Park in the Oakland and Belfield districts. The following announcement has been made by Dr. S. I. Lenhart, Secretary of the University: "To secure a suitable plan-scheme for this project the University will hold a competition among architects under the terms of a program prepared by Professor Warren P. Laird, of the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia. The prize of the competition will be the commission to design and supervise the first building to be constructed, which will be that for the department of the school of mines, for which a fund of $175,000 is now available, and it is quite likely that the University will place in the architect's hands also certain other buildings whose construction is hoped for at a comparatively early period." This competition will be open to all architects whose professional standing and ability to execute large work are made known to the committee. The program will be ready about February 15th, and the drawings will be called for about the middle of April. Architects desiring to enter this competition are requested to write for the necessary application forms to Dr. S. B. Lenhart, Secretary of the University, 802 Home Trust Building, Pittsburg, Pa.

At Wilmington, the Lobdell Car Wheel Company has offered to give the city a tract of ground containing nearly six acres for park purposes, provided the city remove a number of buildings now on the site. The tract is situated in South Wilmington and it is probable the offer will be accepted and the site utilized for a children's playground and other purposes, as the Park Commission has been trying for some time to secure land in that neighborhood. Bonds to the amount of $30,000 have been placed on the market, the proceeds to be used for improvements to the park.

GRAPHITE PAINT AND OTHER GRAPHITE PRODUCTS.

The evolution of things in this country, as young as it is, is wonderful. Books might be written on the subject and even then thousands of important examples omitted.

Our purpose is to refer, at present, to the work of a single man, who, with an humble beginning, established a business of manufacturing nature's graphite into many useful forms, which now represent a commercial value which justifies the maintaining of a local branch in every large city in the United States. Joseph Dixon, the founder of the Joseph Dixon Crucible Company, began in a small way the manufacture of stove polish in 1827. The company now manufactures not only the well-known Dixon Pencils, but Crucibles, Graphite Greases, Lubricants and the famous Dixon Silica-Graphite Paint. The last is of much interest to builders and architects desiring a protective coating for steel of buildings and bridges. Dixon's Silica Graphite Paint is not a new and untried article, but has been used for forty-five years. The Dixon Company is the sole user of the famous Ticonderoga Flake Graphite, the Dixon Ticonderoga mine producing the flake form of graphite of the best quality and peculiarly suited to paint purposes. As paint for steel work is important in the industrial development of the world, the Dixon Company's product plays an essential part. The Philadelphia office of the Dixon Crucible Company is at 1020 Arch street.

Prompt delivery, with a conscientious regard for quality, are the controlling influences which have made the Warner Company popular with consumers. The first and second floor will be especially arranged as lunch and comfort rooms for the employees, including steam tables for heating the food and model toilet arrangements. ## ARCHITECTS' NOTES

Duhring, Okie & Ziegler, architects, Bailey Building, have forwarded the plans for the new lodge building to be built at Green Tree, Pa., for Thomson Lodge, No. 340, F. & A. M., to Barclay H. Lear, of that place. The plans provide for a three-story and basement stone structure measuring 37.4 x 65 feet. There will be a dining room, serving room, kitchen and boiler room in the basement. On the first floor two parlors, two dining rooms, two kitchens and two laundries. Lear, of Green Tree, Pa., can give information. The same architects are completing plans for the superstructure of St. John's Protestant Episcopal Church to be built in Williamsport, Pa. It will be one story high, measuring 38 x 100 feet.

The T-Square Club and the Philadelphia Chapter of the American Institute of Architects will hold its annual exhibition from April 13th to May 3rd. The exhibition will be under the patronage of the Academy of Fine Arts and will be held at the Academy's Building at Broad and Cherry streets. Architects, sculptors and mural decorators have been invited to contribute their work to the exhibit, but no paintings or sculpture unless architectural in character will be eligible. Awards will be made in various lines by a jury consisting of Thomas M. Kellogg, chairman; C. L. Borie, Jr., secretary; John Molitor, treasurer; Frank Miles Day, William A. Delano, E. W. Donn, Jr., Charles Grafly, Albert Kelsey, George Spencer Morris, Philip Sawyer and Clarence C. Zantzieng. First among the prizes will be the Walter Cope Memorial Prize of $75 to the winner of a competition in municipal improvement or landscape architecture. Drawings in this competition must be in before March 30.

The Manufacturers' Club has leased the Old Bellevue Hotel, at the northwest corner of Broad and Walnut streets. Between $20,000 and $25,000 will at once be expended in improving the interior of the building and adapting it to club purposes, and it is expected to be ready for occupancy by May 1st. A two-years' lease has been taken, to date from May 1st, with the option of buying for $1,000,000 at the expiration of that period. The sum named in the lease could not be ascertained. This course was decided upon at a meeting held on Monday night last of the Manufacturers' Club, after extended discussion of a report made by Alfred E. Burke chairman of the building committee. An option on the property at $1,000,000 was obtained early last year, and, although it expired in December, has been allowed to continue. Under the leadership of Chairman Burke, the building committee and other members have made every effort to raise the necessary funds to make the original payment. In order that the property might not be lost to the club, and hopeful that money conditions will improve in the next two years, the committee then set to work to obtain a satisfactory lease.

C. E. Schermerhorn, architect, 430 Walnut street, has completed drawings and specifications for a Colonial residence to be erected at Melrose, Pa., for Mr. Thomas Boggs. The house will be built of Chestnut Hill stone with a slate roof and will be 45 ft. 6 in. square with a servants' wing in the rear. The first floor will contain a wide hall extending clear through the house; on either side will be located a reception room, dining room, living room, kitchen, laundry, pantry, toilet room and a side hall to the automobile entrance. The second floor will contain four chambers with private baths and dressing rooms. A sewing room is provided in the rear. The third floor will contain billiard, bath, guest and servants' room. A wide Colonial staircase will extend from the first to the third floor. Large bay windows are provided in all of the principal rooms. Basement will have cement cellar floor. Dressed stone will be Pennsylvania blue marble. Kitchen, laundry, pantry, toilet and bath rooms will have tiled floors and walls. Fireplaces will have tile fireboard and hearths. Metal work will be of copper or lead. Main portion of house will have quartered white oak floor. The interior will be finished in white enamel and chestnut. Leaded glass windows and mirrored doors are also provided. Plumbing, drainage, gas and electric lighting systems are included. Estimates will be taken later on a hot water heating system. The following contractors are estimating on the work: Daniel W. Sperry, 1305 Arch street; Henry L. Brown, 15 South Fortieth street; A. L. Fretz & Son, 1222 Chancellor street; Burd P. Evans & Company, Thirtieth & Wallace streets; F. L. Hoover & Sons, Builders' Exchange; William Steele & Sons Company, 1600 Arch street; Ashton S. Tourison, 28 South Mole street; James Bartleson, Ambler, Pa., and Stokes Brothers, 6723 Musgrove street.

Clyde S. Adams, architect, 1233 Arch street, has sent preliminary plans to the officers of the American Automobile Association for a group of buildings to be built at Pleasantville, N. J. Included in the project, which will involve an expenditure of about $2,500,000, is a six-story brick and stone fire-proof hotel building, containing about 1,000 rooms. An automobile racing track will be laid out and will be the largest and best equipped of its kind in the world. The plans also provide for garages and repair shops for hundreds of cars, an immense clubhouse, exhibition buildings, a horse racing track, stables and grand stands to accommodate 50,000 spectators. The feature of the undertaking is the race track. It will be rectangular in shape with curved ends. The sides will be a mile apart, and the circumference will be exactly four miles. The bed of the track will be 200 feet wide, of concrete, and will slope slightly toward the inside. On the curves at each end the track will assume an almost vertical position. This construction will allow a speed of 120 miles an hour being made with safety. Inside the main track and at one end will be a smaller dirt track exactly a mile in circumference for horse racing. At the end of the tract at which the horse track will be situated there will be built a large reinforced concrete clubhouse. At the other end of the course the plans call for several garages and repair shops for the racing cars.

At first only three of these buildings will be erected, but it is expected that seven will eventually be needed. Close by the clubhouse will be the grandstand, with its seating capacity of 50,000 persons. On either side of the stand there will be raised plateaus capable of giving standing room for 20,000 spectators or of furnishing the site of other grandstands. Training quarters for race horses will be some distance in the rear of the grandstand. One of the novel features in the plans is the provision for a complete exhibition or fair grounds. The plans call for three main buildings and four smaller structures. The plans are now being examined and as soon as they are approved the work of drawing the final plans for the project will be begun. If work is pushed it is probable that the track and several of the buildings will be finished in time for use in the late summer or fall. The property upon which the track and buildings will be erected is situated near Pleasantville directly on the line of the Atlantic City Railroad.

T. Frank Miller, architect, 908 Walnut street, will shortly invite revised estimates on the proposed new Beth Eden Lutheran Church to be built at the northeast corner of Twenty-fourth and Cumberland streets. A one-story and basement stone building, with slag roof measuring 82 x 87 feet, will be built first and the church proper later.

Cope & Stewardson, architects, 320 Walnut street, are engaged on revised plans for the group of buildings to be built in Freeland, Delaware county, Pa., for the industrial school for girls. The buildings will consist of an administration building, a schoolhouse, chapel, gymnasium and hospital. The last Legislature appropriated $125,000, which was not enough for the erection of the buildings. The Board of Managers of the House of Refuge for girls will ask City Councils for an additional $125,000.

Furness, Evans & Co., architects, Provident Building, have completed plans and specifications for alterations and additions to the residence of Captain E. B. Cassatt, U. S. A., in Berwyn, Pa. The plans call for general interior alterations, the erection of a two-story and attic stone wing, 48 by 24 feet in dimensions, for servants. This will contain a kitchen, servants dining-room and pantry on the first floor, four bedrooms and a bath on the second, and a laundry in the basement. Plans have been distributed among the following builders for estimates: William R. Dougherty, Jacob Myers & Sons, of this city; Frank H. Mahan, Ardmore, Pa.; William H. Russell, Paoli, Pa.; William J. Macome, Devon, Pa.; William H. Burns, Berwyn, Pa. Bids due February 28.

St. Martin's College, 713 to 719 Catharine street, the new self-maintaining school which is educating young boys who have been unable to gain admission to any other institution, has increased its facilities by leasing the building at 1037 Pine street, where a new primary department will be established. This is the first step in a plan whereby the authorities mean to offer an education to 300 children of ages varying from one day to 21 years, at a larger school to be located at Devon. St. Martin's College has fifteen acres of ground at this suburban station, where the students spend their summers in camp life regulated by military discipline. Less than four years ago the college was represented by a $1 bill that some one appropriated for the purpose of starting the institution. To-day the school, with its new home, is valued at $32,000. Its president is the Rev. Charles Wellington Robinson.

Select Councilman Frank H. Caven, chairman of the special committee appointed by Councils to investigate the Coroner's office recommended at a meeting of Councils last week the abolition of the Morgue in Wood street, above Thirteenth, and the erection of a building on the site of the State Fencibles' Armory, Broad street above Race. Other members of the committee were Edward Buchholz, Morris Rosenberg and Thomas R. Fort, Jr. The Morgue and its surroundings were examined, and although thousands of dollars had been spent recently to improve it, the committee reported that its accommodations are inadequate. It was recommended that an ordinance be presented as soon as possible, placing the Morgue under the jurisdiction of the Coroner. Further recommendations included the appropriation of a sum sufficient to purchase a site and erect a new building for the Coroner's department, including a Morgue and the Bureau of Registration. The report was referred to the Finance Committee. Sentiment seemed to be in favor of making the combination recommended, although the idea of having the Morgue on Broad street did not appeal to many.

At the January meeting of the Philadelphia Friends it was decided to ask Governor Stuart for a charter for their proposed corporation to be called the Griscoom Hall Association. It is the purpose of the new corporation to build a summer hotel at Buck Hill Falls, Pa., the popular Pocono mountain summer settlement for Philadelphia Friends, to accommodate fifty guests and to be operated on a strictly co-operative plan. Only Quakers can be stockholders, and they have been backing the scheme eagerly. Many shares have been sold. When the stock was first put on sale at $25 a share there were 249 purchasers anxious to enjoy the profit of a reduced rate, and who were willing to promote any sound proposition that would boost the Friend structure. 960 shares will be disposed of, no one being allowed to buy more than a dozen shares. To these shareholders the association will charge only $6 a week, while to other Friends the rate will be $10. The inn will not be restrictive to "Hicksite" Friends, nor to any other Quakers who may care to spend a part of the hot season at the quiet retreat. The subscription area covers a wide territory and is being extended daily. Among the stockholders are Elwood Hollingshead, Moorestown, N. J.; R. S. Cole, Riverton, N. J.; Charles Paxson, Swarthmore; Robert Pyle, Westgrove; Elwood Roberts, Norristown; Morgan Bunting, Darby; Charles Palmer, Chester; Anne J. Doolington, Media, and Israel Hallowell, Bethayres. The directors of the Griscoom Hall Association have commissioned Bunting & Shrieley, architects, 603 Chestnut street, to prepare plans for a frame structure with all modern appointments and conveniences, to cost about $10,000, so that they may be ready to commence work as soon as the charter has been granted. Officers of the board are George A. Walton, president; Harry S. Bonner, treasurer; Frederick P. Suplee, secretary, and Arthur H. Jenkins, registrar.

Upon the recommendation of the Finance Committee of Common Council, last week, a resolution disapproving of the recent sale of the firehouse property at the southwest corner of Sixth and Sansom streets to F. M. Geiselman for $61,500 was adopted. The Director of Public Works was again directed to offer the property at public sale on the ground that the objects for which the sale of the property were arranged had not been accomplished. The resolution was concurred in by Select Council. To have approved it might possibly have resulted in the final abandonment of a project of such size as is consummated only once or twice in a generation, and which would cause the loss of thousands of dollars to the city and owners of adjacent realty. While it is now a certainty that Mr. Curtis will build his immense publishing house on a part of the ground he owns in the block bounded by Sixth, Seventh, Sansom and Walnut streets, the failure to get the firehouse site has caused him to declare that he would not erect the style of building he purposed doing. By arrangement the Curtis Company was to get the firehouse for $60,000, or double its estimated value, in consideration of which the company secured on behalf of the city an option to purchase for $32,000 a larger site for a firehouse at Seventh and Locust streets. It has hitherto been considered impossible to make a property yield a return upon double its value. As the firehouse site is not worth more than $30,000 under ordinary conditions, it is difficult for experienced investors to understand how Mr. Geiselman expected to obtain a return from it if his bid of $61,500 had been accepted. The refusal of Councils to confirm the sale of the property which was sold at auction several weeks ago by Barnes & Lofland, has the approval of practically every real estate owner and broker in that section of the city. Edgar W. Seeler, architect, Real Estate Trust Building, southeast corner of Broad and Chestnut streets, who prepared plans for a handsome ornate colonial structure for the Curtis Publishing Company, has been instructed to prepare a new set of plans for a substantially built structure of plain design by Mr. Curtis. With the clearing of the site for the Curtis Building, there will pass out of existence a number of old buildings which, a century ago, bore the same relation toward the business life of the city that the skyscrapers close by City Hall bear to the business section of to-day.

Daniel W. Sperry, builder, 1303 Arch street, has plans posted for altering a dwelling in Edge Hill Village for George H. Wakely, to be used as a store and dwelling. Plans by H. Godfrey, of Edge Hill. The same builder is also bidding on a dwelling at Overbrook, Pa., for William H. Brown.

Bids will be received in a short time for the handsome dwelling to be erected at 47 and 49 West Fifty-second street, New York City, for Mr. William K. Vanderbilt, 660 Fifth avenue, New York City. The cost will be about $150,000. The plans have been prepared by Architects Warren and Wetmore, 3 East Thirty-third street, who will receive the bids.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Manufacturers Club, held Monday evening, the following committee was appointed to arrange the details of furnishing and decorating the old Bellevue Hotel, which the club has leased for two years: John Fisher, chairman; Thomas Devlin, Richard Campion, John R. The Philadelphia Land Building and Manufacturing Company, 1229 Real Estate Trust Building, southeast corner Broad and Chestnut streets, will build sixty twin dwellings at Ninth street and Saville avenue, Eddystone, Pa. They will be of the modern type in construction with porches and side yards. The site on which the new houses will be built is within three blocks of the Eddystone Print Works and nearly a like distance from the Baldwin Locomotive, the Belmont Iron and the Tindell-Morris Works. The object of the company is to put up as many residences as the present needs will demand and thereafter complete as many as can be conveniently sold from time to time. It is proposed to build an operation of dwellings in Chester, also. The president of the corporation is Severley W. Ackley; secretary, Frederick N. Minor, and treasurer, Rhoads Shee.

It was reported in these columns some time ago that the Baldwin Locomotive Works bought several hundred acres of land at Eddystone, Pa., and would eventually remove its entire plant there. The recent rumor to the effect that the next two or three years will witness a great development around Broad and Callowhill streets, which will not only mean much for the whole city, but will have the immediate effect of greatly enhancing all values on Broad street and on the cross streets from Arch as far north as Green street, confirms the above statement. The development, it is said, will be the realization of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad to have a great terminal, to be used jointly for its trains and those of the Reading Railway, near Broad and Callowhill streets. With the removal of the Baldwin plant from Broad street the way would be open to the Baltimore and Ohio to build a terminal which would extend from Broad to Seventeenth street.

The Building Committee of the proposed new auditorium to be built in Ridley Park, Delaware county, Pa., held a meeting last week at the home of Councilman W. G. Halket, on East Ridley avenue. The plans for the new building were submitted by Councilman F. J. Michell and a general discussion of them followed. Every one of the committee seemed pleased with the plans and the contract for the structure will likely be given out shortly. The plans were prepared by Architects Rankin, Kellogg & Crane, 1012 Walnut street, this city, and provide for a two-story frame structure, measuring 32 x 93 feet. The outside walls will be 24 feet high and the ceiling will be 18 feet from the floor. The new hall will front on Tome street with the side on Ward street. The interior will be finished in hard oak and there will be a basement which will be used for banquets and other kinds of feasts. The main auditorium will have a seating capacity of 400 and there will be a stage at the end 23 feet wide. At the time the bids for its erection were invited the following builders submitted bids: Frank E. Wallace, 1210 Sansom street; R. M. Peterson, Germantown; Fredk. Faber, Moores, Pa., and Nolan Brothers, of Chester, Pa. Mentioned previously.

THE EXHIBITORS' ASSOCIATION.

A move that should be of great and lasting benefit to the building trade in general was the organization last week in the Master Builders' Exchange of the Exhibitors' Association, which will aim to give wider publicity to the aims and objects of the organization, which has been greatly advanced through the untiring efforts and devoted zeal of Charles Elmer Smith, the superintendent of the Exhibition Department. The following officers were elected: Benjamin K. Nusbbaum, president; James V. Royal, vice-president; M. R. Alexander, secretary, and Charles H. Ehrenzeller, treasurer. President Nusbbaum has appointed the following committees: Rules, W. H. Conover, J. V. Royal and W. R. Miller; membership, M. R. Alexander, Edward A. Shallcross, T. F. Osborne, George Conderman and L. B. Mellor. The organization has a membership of seventy, and the entire 131 exhibitors have been invited to join. Every tenant of the building, whether exhibitor or not, is eligible to membership. Meetings will be held monthly. The members of the Philadelphia Chapter of the American Institute of Architects endorsed the Exhibitors' Association idea, and set aside a special night for the Builders' Exchange and the Exhibitors' Association during the coming exhibition of the T Square Club in the Academy of the Fine Arts. In turn the Exhibitors' Association will have a special night for architects during the exhibition which it proposes giving in the Exchange in the near future.
